The film cluster will explore the world of film; the way they are shot, the importance of imagery and dialogue and how all these elements work together to create a successful film. As a final project, participants will create their own film. Trips might include visits to the Museum of the Moving Image and/or the Museum of Television and Radio.

Students will investigate how certain games affect the brain and will be collecting/creating games for local children's hospitals and senior centers.
Healthy Living	Do you ever wonder which foods are best for your mental and physical health? Have you ever been confused about why sleep is so important in an adolescent's life? In this cluster, you will explore the components of a healthy lifestyle. Together we will brainstorm ways to make sure we can lead the healthiest life that we can! We will enjoy an occasional healthy snack and hopefully have a visit from a professional nutritionist. Field trips may include a visit to the human body exhibit at the Hall of Science.
Karate	Hiya! Do you want to learn the traditional martial art of Japanese Shotokan Karate? This cluster will help you develop strength, fitness, and healthy exercise habits. Stock Market Challenge	Are you interested in buying at low prices and selling at high prices? Do you want to learn more about what it takes to have a job working as a stockbroker? Are you someone willing to take risks to make the almighty dollar? Come be part of an exciting cluster where you will have to manage a large amount of "money" to achieve the ultimate goal: come out on top. In this cluster you will work closely with your classmates to follow daily trends of the New York Stock Exchange and follow the money you initially invest and make decisions on whether you should keep, buy more of or sell. A possible trip could be a virtual field trip to the New York Stock Exchange.
String Ensemble*	Are you a musician interested in performing in a group setting? This cluster is open to all students with a desire to create and perform with others who share a passion for music. You will have the chance to arrange and play songs of your choosing, compose and record your own music and perform with an ensemble in multiple different settings. All ability levels are welcome and everyone is given the opportunity to improve as a musician and performer regardless of their skill level. We will be able to provide string instruments from the school so you do not need your own instrument to participate in this cluster. Students who play instruments other than strings are also encouraged to join. Possible class field trips include sitting in on a rehearsal of the NY Philharmonic and other musical performances around the city. *Students in this cluster typically remain in this cluster throughout the school year.
Wonderful Watercolors	Calling all aspiring artists! Do you like to paint? In this cluster, we will study and experiment a variety of techniques and methods of watercolors. We will explore possible careers in the Visual Arts. In addition, we will explore careers that involve art and the application of watercolors. Did you know that Illustrators and fashion designers work with watercolors, for both high-end stores and magazine ad campaigns. A possible trip is the Morgan Library for Colors of the World workshop. We will display our work in local community venues such as our local library.
